Objective

The aim of the course is to identify similarities and differences between the regulations of the FDA and the European regulations for Medical Devices. The focus will be on

- Classification Rules and Submission in the USA
- Certification Procedures
- Technical Documentation vs Device History File and Device Master Record
- Combination Products
- Design Controls
- Validation / Qualification
- Regulatory Audits
- CAPA and Complaint Handling

A Notified Bodies representative will start the course by explaining the regulatory requirements, especially regarding the new EU Medical Device Regulations.

Background

Since 1996, the requirements for the development, the manufacture and the distribution of Medical Devices in the USA have been laid down in the revised cGMP regulations for Medical Devices (21 CFR 820, QSR). In the USA, Medical Devices are regulated by the FDA's Center for Devices and Radiological Health (CDRH). Inspections are primarily performed by the FDA.

In Europe, three EU directives (90/385/EEG, 93/42/EEG and 98/79/EEG) and one amending directive used to regulate the medical devices industry. Since May 2021, the new Medical Device Regulation has been in force. GMP regulations - strictly speaking - are not notified.

Instead, harmonised standards, especially ISO 13485, represent the state-of-the-art in the area of the EU. Inspections are primarily performed by Notified Bodies („New Approach for Product Regulations and Conformity Assessment“).

With the revision of the ISO 13485 in 2016 there are also new (“GMP“-) requirements.

Statistical data about deficiencies of Medical Devices do only exist in the USA because of the Freedom of Information Act. For years now, CAPA/Complaint Handling, insufficient Design Controls, Management Responsibility, Process Controls and Process Validation and Quality Audits have been among the Top 10 deviations.

Target Audience

This event has been especially designed for the manufacturers who are subject to the Medical Device legislation and want to become familiar with the practice-oriented implementation of the legal requirements in the USA and in Europe.
