Classification and Submission of Medical Devices in the USA

How to classify and submit Medical Devices in the USA?

Preparing for an Audit according to the New European MDR

For two examples of medical devices relevant sections of the new European MDR will be analysed in order to identify the main audit items, which contain new or enhanced requirements.

Background

Since 1996, the requirements for the development, the manufacture and the distribution of medical devices in the USA have been laid down in the revised cGMP regulations for Medical Devices (21 CFR 820, QSR). In the USA, medical devices are regulated by the FDA's Center for Devices and Radiological Health (CDRH). Inspections are primarily performed by the FDA.

In Europe, three EU directives (90/385/EEG, 93/42/EEG and 98/79/EEG) and one amending directive used to regulate the medical devices industry. In May 2020 however, the new Medical Device Regulation came into force. GMP regulations - strictly speaking - are not notified.

Instead, harmonised standards, especially ISO 13485, represent the state-of-the-art in the area of the EU. Inspections are primarily performed by Notified Bodies („New Approach for Product Regulations and Conformity Assessment“).

The revision of the ISO 13485 in 2016 also came with new (“GMP“-) requirements.

Statistical data about deficiencies of medical devices only exist in the USA because of the Freedom of Information Act. For years now, CAPA/Complaint Handling, insufficient Design Controls, Management Responsibility, Process Controls and Process Validation and Quality Audits have been among the Top 10 deviations.

Target Audience

This event has been especially designed for the manufacturers who are subject to the medical device legislation and want to become familiar with the practice-oriented implementation of the legal requirements in the USA and in Europe.
